

The artists of Agostino Arts have been transforming the faces of New York for over 25 years. Now, they bring their unique artistry to a beautiful new canvas- that of the pregnant belly. Belly painting offers a mom-to-be the opportunity to celebrate her and her baby's transformation with an original, beautiful design.

How do you come up with the design?

You will correspond and collaborate with an artist to come up with a personal, meaningful design. Our artists can be inspired by your family heritage, nursery designs, or cultural images from around the world.

Where does the painting take place?

A belly can be painted in the comfort of your own home or in a photographer's studio of your choice. The painting itself takes around one hour, depending on the design. Once the painting is complete, a photograph helps capture the beautiful canvas. You may wish to share the experience with loved ones and include belly painting as a baby shower activity. Though the paint will wash away, the photograph will be cherished for a lifetime.

What is it like to be painted?

Your belly will be hand-painted using soft sponges and brushes, a relaxing therapeutic sensation. The make-up used is an FDA approved water based make-up that is very safe for both mommy and baby. The make-up itself is very lightweight comes off easily with soap and water.
